

Thank you for your interest in participating in our studio! We have worked hard to create a gallery space in the heart of Patchogue Village, New York that celebrates creatives and gives them a beautiful space to showcase and sell their work. In our first year of being open we were voted best art gallery on Long Island. If you're an artist of any kind, we are excited to meet you! We are a family of 3 who opened Amulet Arts in an exclusive and active community of like-minded Long Island citizens. Please feel free to visit our website (www.amuletartsny.com) and Instagram (<https://www.instagram.com/amuletartsny/>) to see more of what we do and are about. Our intention is to bring together new and established artists focused on celebrating diversity, nurturing and appreciating our planet, challenging the social norm, expression through body modification and more.

Amulet Arts is accepting submissions for the High Art Show. For this exhibition we invite artists to share their artistic vision of cannabis, to highlight the politics of the issue and the creativity that comes out of cannabis culture and plant medicine during this historical moment. What message will you share with the world that helps them (and you) understand your experience in this societal shift. Is it a message of wanting to change the stigma around cannabis use? Or is it one of moving away from opioids for pain management? In this time of recent isolation and confinement – is it just to get back to that happy place of feeling comfortable moving about in the world? Will you focus on the voice of minorities who have been excessively punished and incarcerated for cannabis? Will you just paint a trippy picture? This exhibition explores the current trends and trajectory in that legalization is a huge topic and an important societal trend in the United States in the 21st century. These collective creative works will hopefully serve as an avenue or agent for societal transformation and exposure of social and political points of view. Your voice matters; we invite you to submit work that best represents your views of plants as medicine and recreation and reflects your reaction to legalization.

Here's what we need you to do next:

Send an email to info@amuletartsny.com with the following information:

- Photos of each piece you are submitting for consideration along with
 - Dimensions of the piece (approximate size in inches)
 - Medium
 - Artist Name and Instagram
 - Title of work (if any)
 - Is this piece for sale? If it is for sale, how much would you list it for? *

* Once your art has been selected we will email you with more information including our sales and commission policy, amount of time we would like to show your work and more. We understand that without more info on commission, you may not be able to come to a final price- you can give us an approximate price estimate and we will finalize everything together. In addition, once selected, 2-D artwork will need to be wall ready as in, properly matted and/or framed with hanging wire.

Your artwork will be displayed at our physical location on Main Street in Patchogue. This is an area with high foot traffic and consistent, popular events. Your work is sure to be seen! Our gallery space is limited so if you don't hear from us immediately please know your work is being considered. If you're not local to New York, you're welcome to submit! Keep in mind that if your art must be shipped, you will be responsible for allocated shipping costs, shipping insurance and appropriate fees. We can't wait to see your work and look forward to working with you!

Sincerely,

Mandolynne and Kaspia
